

FUTURE SONICS APPOINTS DAVID GRAY DIRECTOR OF CLIENT SERVICES

BRISTOL, PA – November 12, 2008 -- Future Sonics, innovators of the original Ear Monitors® and Atrio® brand professional earphones for the top concert tours, recording studios and television shows, is pleased and proud to announce the appointment of David Gray as Director of Client Services.

In this vital role, David will communicate directly with artists, engineers and all of our clients to ensure complete satisfaction – from fulfillment to all aspects of customer service. David comes to Future Sonics with both a history in the music industry and a strong background in sales. Prior to taking this position, David was a full-time musician and entrepreneur co-founding the independent label, Curbside Records as well as the web design company DG2 Designs.

“We are certain David’s unique background will ensure our clients are not only satisfied, but delighted with the service we provide,” said President and Founder Marty Garcia. “This is a testament to our commitment to our quality and client services as we rapidly grow our company.”
